WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Friends and Colleagues,
ISPAT & ISAR Welcome you to Varanasi !

On behalf of the Organising Team, it gives us immense pleasure to invite you to the city of Lord Shiva, Kashi, for the 15th Biennial ISPAT Conference-Ferto-Genetics 2023, in association with ISAR from 28th-30th April, 2023. Last decade has witnessed newer advances in genomic technologies & their impact on the diagnosis & treatment of fertility and fetal medicine. Our aim is to update our fellow clinicians, scientists & healthcare professionals regarding these breakthroughs for the benefit of our patients.

This Conference will bring together professionals from all walks of life to one common platform through various keynote lectures, debates, panel discussions & guest lectures from eminent National & International faculty. Additionally, Free papers & Posters will be there to encourage & motivate the young minds in the field of clinical & laboratory research. We hope you will join us in Varanasi not only for this academic feast but also for "Kashi Darshan" & a gastronomic feast too !.

Warm Regards,
Team ISPAT Ferto Genetics 2023

PLACES TO VISIT IN AND AROUND VARANASI

GANGA RIVER

Named after the Hindu goddess Ganga, the Ganges River is one of the most revered natural sites in India. The river extends southeast from the Himalayas in the north to the Bay of Bengal. Between 400 million and 600 million people rely on the Ganges River to provide water for daily bathing and drinking Authority. Animals are Hindus come to Varanasi from all around the world to purify themselves in the holy Ganges water and perform rituals along the dozens of ghats along the river.

DASASWAMEDH GHAT

The lively atmosphere of the Dasaswamedh Ghat makes it one of the best places to visit in Varanasi. This tourist attraction is a swirling hodgepodge of flower sellers touting bright blossoms, boat operators hawking rides along the Ganges River, and sadhus (holy men) with face paint. You can spend hours people watching in this area during the day. Hindu priests put on the Ganga Aarti every night at the Dasaswamedh Ghat, starting at around 7pm.

DHAMEK STUPA

Hinduism certainly has a stronghold on Varanasi, but Buddhism has a major presence less than 12 kilometers away in the village of Sarnath. Here, you'll find the Dhamek Stupa, a massive stone and brick structure that's 43.6 meters tall and 28 meters in diameter. The stupa was built more than 1,500 years ago as a replacement for a structure that dated back to 249 BCE.

BANARAS HINDU UNIVERSITY

Banaras Hindu University has been a central part of Varanasi's identity since its inception in 1916. The well-respected public university is home to more than 25,000 students, making it one of Asia's largest residential universities. There are no hill stations near Varanasi, so if you're looking for an escape from the crowds and busy city, come to this lush 1,300-acre campus.

SINGHPUR SARNATH

Singhpur Sarnath is one of the most significant pilgrimage spots for Hindus, Buddhists and Jains making it one of the most fascinating places to visit around Varanasi. According to many legends, it is believed that Lord Buddha visited this place after his enlightenment. Filled with numerous Buddhist architecture and heritage, Sarnath attracts tourists from all over the world. The deer park is considered to be the place where Lord Gautam Buddha first taught the Dharma.

CHANDALI

Chandauli is a noteworthy tourist destination and the town is named after Chandra Sah, a Barhaulia Rajput who founded the town. Later, his descendants built a fort in Chandauli which is still famous among visitors. With various scenic beauty spots, like the Devdari Falls and the rich Chandra Prabha Wildlife Sanctuary, Chandauli is one of the most popular places to visit around Varanasi.

KAIMUR

Kaimur was an important part of the Magadha Empire and played a major role during the Freedom Struggle. Now it has evolved into a wonderful holiday destination and one of the most fascinating places to visit near Varanasi. Kaimur has a whole plethora of attractions for its visitors ranging from forts, temples, gushing rivers and cascading waterfalls, dense forests and scenic picnic spots.

MIRZAPUR

Mirzapur is a town with a lot of history and it attracts not only tourists but also history buffs and archaeologists. The rock paintings and the various artefacts found here are enough to prove that the palaeolithic age existed in this region and signs of civilization here dates back to 5000 BCE. Apart from this,

Mirzapur is also famous for its scenic landscape and natural beauty.
